EDWARD FRANK REPORTS HERE MARCH 1

Petaluman Gets Manager's Post

EDWARD FRANK

Edward Frank, city manager of Petaluma the past seven years and former city administrator of Turlock, Monday night was appointed Daly City's new city manager by unanimous verdict of the council.

The 56-year-old administrative veteran, among the top five candidates recommended by the State Personnel Board for the $15,000 position, officially will report here March 1.

Frank notified the "surprised" Petaluma council of his decision early yesterday. His record there, according to the two daily newspapers covering the governmental scene, was outstanding. The Petaluma council, Frank said, had no advance inkling of his Daly City appointment.

Frank's acceptance of the Daly City post represents a considerable promotion for him in the managerial ranks. He goes from a charter city of 15,550 residents with a yearly budget of $788,000 to a sixth class governmental community of almost 40,000 population with an annual budget well over $1.5 million. His salary in Petaluma was approximately $12,000 per year.

A native of New York but a West Coast resident most of his life, Frank has a versatile background as an administrator. He is no stranger to the Bay Area. In fact, he attended Daly City's old Vista Grande Elementary School and lived for many years on Geneva avenue in San Francisco — less than a mile from Daly City.

He attended high school at Santa Cruz, and went on to Stanford where he received his A.B. and Master's degrees. He was awarded his administrative (teaching) credential at University of California in Berkeley.

Frank's first professional job was a two-year stint as personnel and district manager for Yellow Cab Company in San Francisco, from 1928-30. Next he entered the restaurant and concession business in Santa Cruz and San Francisco, from 1931-35.

The following three years he attended Columbia University in New York and was a steward and purchasing agent for the Lexington Hotel in New York City.

From 1939 to 1942 he was an instructor in high school and junior college at Warren, Ohio, and Porterville, California.

Coaching became his next full-time assignment as head coach and physical education instructor at Turlock High School, from 1943-46. His age ruled out military service during World War II.

From 1947 to 1949 Frank went to work for the city of Turlock as executive director of the city recreation department. The latter year he made his debut in municipal administration by accepting the job of city administrator in Turlock, a community with a population of about 6000 at that time. After three years in this

ST. FRANCIS FOLKS ANGRY?

Pacelli Asks Serra Route For 'Unity'

Pressured by an overflow, predominantly Westlake audience, the Daly City council Monday night took the freeway issue by the horns, standing firm on its already desired route and disbanding the challenged city freeway committee.

The abrupt decisions, motioned by Councilman Francis Pacelli, chairman of the now-defunct city committee, paved the way for the city's presentation "for" the East Y-T freeway along Junipero Serra — a "least destructive" route unanimously endorsed by the city committee many months ago.

Public hearing on the state's north county freeway proposals is scheduled January 13 at 2 p.m. in South San Francisco High School auditorium. City Attorney Paul Hupf, backed by facts boosting the East Y-T route, supplied by city-hired engineer Ted Tronoff, will represent Daly City at the state route adoption hearing.

Pacelli's supplementary motion, ending the function of the city freeway committee, erased Tuesday night's scheduled meeting of that 22-member group. This decision by the council no doubt shocked members of the city committee who did not expect any discussion of the freeway fight until Tuesday evening.

Two representatives of the St. Francis Heights Improvement Association, claiming that 700 homeowners in McKeon's tract were entitled to equal representation and consideration, went down fighting Monday night. Their sustained protests were at first drowned out by the "mobilized" Westlake majority in the audience, and finally by the council's quick ratification of Pacelli's two proposals.

Mayor Edward Dennis and Pacelli took the brunt of the verbal blasts of David Plyer and Mrs. Michael Amorose from St. Francis Heights. But the audience majority prevailed, greeting the answers of Dennis and Pacelli with considerable applause.

Plyer, who spent more than 30 minutes criticizing the council decision, charged that St. Francis Heights was not given fair representation on the city committee, its letter for more

ROUTE MAPS ON DISPLAY AT TWO SITES

Daly City residents today were reminded by Councilman Francis Pacelli that public hearing by the State Division of Highways on proposed north San Mateo county freeway routes is scheduled Wednesday, January 13, at 2 p.m. in the South San Francisco High School auditorium, 398 B street.

Pacelli is chairman of the city's freeway committee which met Monday night to decide on a course of action in answer to the state proposals.

Maps on all north county routes under study by the state will be displayed next Monday and Tuesday, from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Crestmoor School in San Bruno, and on Thursday and Firday next week in the Coral Room of Daly City's War Memorial Community Center, 144 Hillside boulevard, also from 3 to 9 p.m. State Highway representatives will be present during the map displays to answer all questions.

Xmas Wasn't Too Joyful For Brisbaner

Mell Manley Keenan, 44, 479 Mendocino street, Brisbane, was released on $183.75 bail Christmas morning after being charged with drunkenness, disturbing the peace and malicious mischief.

The malicious mischief consisted of sticking his foot through the right rear window of a Daly City police car.

Officer Tom Culley saw a man who was apparently under age enter a tavern Christmas eve at 11:50 p.m. When Culley started to follow the youth, he said Keenan, sitting in a truck, began shouting vulgar insults at him. Culley notified fellow Officers Jim Bergstrom and Steve Steen.

Keenan, "very intoxicated and acting irrational," was handcuffed and placed in the police car. He kicked out the rear window. He denied being drunk, saying he was "just mad."

While being booked on the three charges, the Brisbaner told Steen he (the officer) would be "very sorry when this is over."

VERDUCCI ASKS SPECIAL AUDIT 'CONCLUSIONS'

Councilmen will review the special auditor's report on Daly City's last fiscal year books next Monday night at 8 in a special meeting.

The report by John G. Maddux, certified public accountant, was submitted to the council Monday night but was not discussed. Councilman Joseph Verducci insisted that the report be explained by the special auditor and that its conclusions be made in "layman's language."

The council withheld payment of $2000 for the special audit pending an in-person report by Maddux or one of his representatives.

Runaway Mail Truck Crashes Into Home Here

Albert T. Sanelli, 30, a temporary driver for the Daly City post office and a teacher at Riordan High School, chased the truck he had parked at 285 Palisades drive some 97 feet but lost the chase as it crashed into the home of Fred C. Birkhofer at 297 Skyline drive in the Palisades.

The incident occurred last Thursday morning as the 2½ ton olive drab truck which was loaned to the postal department by the National Guard damaged a palm tree, the lawn, brick work, a stucco wall and plants at Birkhofer's residence.

Sanelli was not cited by Officer Rich deLosa. The teacher said he was certain the emergency brake failed. DeLosa said the brake seemed to be in working order but is the type that "snaps up" and could have accidentally released itself.

KITCHEN FIRE IN WESTLAKE

Mrs J. G. Green, 25 Southdale avenue, Westlake, walked out of the kitchen for a few minutes leaving a pan on top of the stove and when she returned the room was in flames.

Battalion Fire chief Wayne Alexander answered the call with firemen at 10:21 p.m. Monday but the fire had burned itself out. Alexander said $300 damage was done to cabinets over the stove and a blower.

He said the fire apparently started when cooking grease ignited and was fanned by a blower located above the stove.

Seven-Year-Old Almost Qualified As An 'Arsonist'

Police Officers Robert Stables and Jim Bergstrom responded to a fire underneath Westlake Southern Baptist Church, near Eaton avenue and Northridge drive, and searched for a 7-year-old boy who had lit combustibles under the church Monday at 4:32 p.m.

William S. Kabeary, 33, of 74 Eaton avenue, said he apprehended the youngster but the lad escaped. The two policemen questioned other juveniles in the area and learned the name of the suspect. He has a record of running away from home and was not there when police arrived.

An hour later, the young arsonist returned to his residence. Battalion Fire Chief Frank Specht reprimanded the boy for setting the fire. Fortunately there was little damage to the church, police said.

Council Calls Another Census To Raise Funds

Needing all the money they can muster, Daly City councilmen Monday night moved to ask for a special state census here in February to bring the city an estimated $20,000 more in motor vehicle in lieu and gas tax funds.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, who made the motion, said the census would cost about $[illegible]. It will be supervised by the state department of finance and won't take more than a week to complete.

City Finance Director Joseph Arch, in recommending the census, said it should amend Daly City's listed population of 38,620 to a figure around 40,500 — bringing the city more state funds.

Daly City's special federal census last June netted the city $52,000 in additional revenue, Arch pointed out.

Council Candidates Please Note . . . . . .

Individuals who intend to be candidates in the April 12 Daly City council election—two four-year jobs at stake — are reminded that the deadline for filing is noon on February 18 at the city clerk's office, 75 Wellington avenue.

Nomination papers for all candidates will be made available beginning January 28.

February 18 is also the deadline for persons wishing to register to vote in the municipal election.

CALHOUN QUITS 'FOR NEW JOB' VIA RESIGNATION

Otis T. Calhoun, Daly City's director of public works, submitted a politely worded letter of resignation to the council Monday night—five days short of the third anniversary of his appointment here.

The entire council, which two months ago, in a closed meeting, had asked Calhoun to seek a job elsewhere, accepted his "requested" decision unanimously. Not one councilman made any comment on Calhoun's letter, which read as follows:

"In order that I may obtain additional experience to further my professional career, I feel it is prudent that I accept employment in another city, therefore I submit my resignation from the position of Director of Public Works for Daly City, effective on February 14, at the end of my accummulated leave for which I request permission to begin on January 16. I have enjoyed living and working in Daly City and am proud to have had a part in its phenomenal growth."

The council agreed to Calhoun's requested termination date, and Mayor Edward Dennis summarized that newly appointed City Manager Edward Frank and the council would meet after March 1 to discuss a successor to Calhoun as department head.

Only public inquiry Monday night about Calhoun came earlier from Elsie Garrison, Westlake housewife, who has frequently taken the podium to bombard the council—particularly on the Calhoun issue.

Asked Mrs. Garrison of Councilman Micheal DeBernardi: "Did you, Mr. DeBernardi, request the resignation of Calhoun?" His reply was "no." Mayor Dennis quickly interrupted that the request for the resignation "was done collectively by the full council."

Mrs. Garrison then charged that the council "exceeded its authority by doing so," citing City Ordinance 405, which she read and said leaves the decision of hiring and firing the public works director solely in the hands of the city manager.

Angered by the challenge, Dennis then reminded Mrs. Garrison, "we have no city manager at present . . . you know that."

The housewife lashed into Pacelli for his statement early in the Calhoun move to the effect that he (Pacelli) didn't know if the department of public works was necessary.

Pacelli replied that he had been speaking about the position of public works director and not Calhoun's performance as an individual. The unanimity of the council in accepting the resignation left no doubt how all five men felt about Calhoun's service, however.

After declaring that Pacelli "seemed to be confused

Pershing School Replacement Contract Awarded At $197,267

Jefferson Elementary District trustees last week awarded a bid of $197,267 for the General Pershing School replacement to McBroom and Cecchini Construction, pending approval by the State Department of Finance.

Other bidders were Herrero Brothers at $215,426 and C. J. Collins at $223,441.

Construction on the Pershing replacement is scheduled to begin within 30 days. Once it is finished, early next summer, the existing school, fronting the 600 block of Hanover street, will be demolished. The old school dates back to the 1920's and has been inadequate for years.

In other main action last week, the board approved resolutions for applications to the State Allocations Board for $600,000 in aid for adding seven extra classrooms to the being-built Abe Lincoln, Thomas Edison and Daniel Webster K-6 schools.

The school adminisration earlier had recommended enlarging these schools instead of building Gaspar Portola K-6 east of Skyline off Higate drive and south of the Lincoln and Edison schools. Trustees still are hopeful for a K-6 site in Doelger's Westlake Unit 11 west of Skyline.

Trustees also finalized an application to the state for $220,000 for the erection of two classroom additions to Jefferson Elementary School on Ale-

Masini Granted Another Term, Dunham Resigns

The council reappointed Tony Masini to a new term on the Daly City planning commission and regretfully accepted the resignation of personnel board chairman Starr Dunham at Monday night's meeting.

Masini, of 698 Hillside boulevard, was reappointed on motion of Councilman Micheal DeBernardi. Dunham, recovering from a heart attack, resigned for health reasons. He resides in Westlake at 80 Cliffside drive.

$25,000 CLAIM FILED FOR FALL AT GRID GAME

Dominic Fontana has entered a $25,000 claim against Jefferson High School District in behalf of his daughter Julie Ann, 183 Del Prado drive, Daly City, who allegedly fell from the bleachers at a Westmoor football game on November 25.

Fontana said the extent of Julie Ann's injuries is not yet known. His claim cites that she leaned against the back of the bleachers and a restraining bar gave way, causing her to fall to the ground.

The Fontanas are no relation to Elio Fontana, chairman of the board of trustees for the district.

The board also gave the topsoil moving bid at the Thomas Edison-Abraham Lincoln site to Arthur Haskins and Sons for $1932. Other bidders were Fontana and Sons, $2206, and Bagato Paving Company, $2245.

Trustees allotted $489 for a resolution authorizing the administration to submit plans for George Washington K-6 School to the State Allocations Board.

Christmas Morning Heart Attack Fatal

Theodore R. Prosser, 53, 220 Verano drive, St. Francis Heights, was pronounced dead on arrival at Junipero Serra Hospital from a possible heart attack Christmas day at 10:18 a.m.

Lloyd J. Bofenkamp, a neighbor, of 224 Verano drive notified police. Officer Les Bastedo found Prosser lying on the bathroom floor of his home. M&D Ambulance transported the victim to the hospital.

SF MAN BOOKED ON AUTO THEFT CHARGES HERE

Bail was set at $1000 for Raul Solano, 23, of 235 5th avenue, Apartment 2, San Francisco, after he was arrested here on charges of attempted auto theft and tampering with an auto on Christmas night.

At 11:42 p.m. Kaye Kawaguchi, 1605 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, notified police that a man was attempting to steal his car from in front of 225 Wyandotte street, Daly City. Officer Tom Culley got a description of the suspect and caught him a short distance away.

Kawaguchi identified Solano at the scene. A sheetmetal worker, Solano has a record in San Francisco for narcotics and burglary.

Someone Planning New Year's Blast?

Melroy Broadbent, 252 Whittier street, brought a live 20 mm shell to the Central Fire Station in Westlake after he found it in the vicinity of Lake Merced Saturday at 1:55 p.m.

Freeway Stand

representation wasn't on the agenda, that the council hadn't considered the tax loss with the removal of Junipero Serra commercial establishments to make way for the freeway, that the council was prejudicial towards Westlake, and that in general, "the freeway affects all the residents of Daly City and one particular area shouldn't be given all the consideration."

Mrs. Amorose followed Plyer's statements to the council by calling the councilmen "foolish for not standing up against all freeway routes here."

She added that when the East Y-T route decision was made last February that St. Francis Heights had no representation on the city committee and that people in McKeon's development are taxpayers, too, and have a right to be represented in city-wide decisions.

Pacelli, who along with Councilman Bob St. Clair refuted Flayer's statements that the freeway "stand" was finalized too quickly, reminded him that the city committee was in full accord on the East Y-T route early in the year. Pacelli scorned the suggestion that opposing all routes here was a practical idea.

"We gave all the state routes careful scrutiny, then suggested this East Y-T route," Pacelli reviewed. "It will be the least destructive because it won't cause the removal of any homes in Westlake or St. Francis Heights. We've got to be practical . . . the state will get a freeway through Daly City and we will lose some property. But I'd rather see commercial firms removed first before homes."

Dennis echoed this statement with "I'll never be in favor of uprooting homes."

Plyer said he had no intentions of creating a Westlake vs. St. Francis Heights argument over the freeway, but that it was obvious Westlake had the "most say" with the council. Mrs. Amorose also declared that four of the five city councilmen live in Westlake.

Dennis, who opened the tense freeway discussion with a statement that "no freeways will go through Westlake," noted that the city's rejection of state route proposals earlier was made because all of these routes would have cut through existing homes — "both in Westiake and St. Francis Heights."

The mayor's qualifying statement came after Councilman Joseph Verducci quoted the February 10, 1958, council resolution to the state, opposing freeway alternates A and B (laterals through Westlake and St. Francis Heights) because these routes would mean the removal of homes.

Plyer later challenged the East Y-T route, asking if the state hadn't ruled it out because of the necessary tunnel to connect this lateral to Edgemar freeway. Pacelli answered that the state was against the tunnel idea (too costly), but that the state hadn't said it was against the route.

The East Y-T which the city will ask the state to adopt instead of six other state proposals basically would run west of Junipero Serra in front of the golf course, cut across Junipero Serra in front of Mayfair Market, follow the east side of Junipero Serra to a point just north of Woodlawn cemetery, again cross Junipero Serra to the west side in front of McKeon's once-intended shopping center, then skirt south of McKeon's St. Francis Heights and through the undeveloped Christen ranch land towards Skyline and the Edgemar freeway. Only business firms and a few homes on Junipero Serra would be affected.

Engineer Tronoff's data for Hupf will include documents to show that any laterals off this basic north-south Junipero Serra route should be located south of Daly City's limits—near Sharp Park road cutoff with Skyline—where population will be very concentrated at the time the state gets around to building the freeways.

Still questionable is the state's reaction to the city-preferred East Y-T route. State engineers could rule it out quickly.

But right now it is Daly City's only chance for a "least destructive" solution.

Pacelli concluded Monday's climatic session with a basic assertion: "If our position is divided on January 13, then we are dead."

City Manager

capacity, he moved to Petaluma as city manager.

Mayor Edward Dennis of Daly City said Frank asked for the March 1 reporting date in order to allow him time to finalize several municipal projects in Petaluma.

Frank's most successful endeavors for Petaluma of late include leading the drive for a new state college and the establishment of a flood control district and small boat harbor.

According to information obtained by the Daly City council, Frank's administration at Petaluma was marked by progress and harmony.

Reports indicate he is particularly strict on budgetary control, believes in a strong approach to the state and federal agencies for municipal development funds, and requires department heads to report regularly to the administration on all major projects and the status of funds.

Frank and his wife are the parents of a daughter, age 36, and have a 14-year-old son.

Mayor Edward Dennis, commenting on the appointment, declared: "We were impressed from the start by Mr. Frank's administrative background and proven record in two California cities. The State Personnel Board rated him tops and the people we have contacted regarding his performance all testify that he is a capable administrator."

Frank told the newspaper, "I'm gratified by the consideration the council has extended to me and the opportunity to serve Daly City."

He added that he had received many feelers the past few years for other administrative jobs in California, "but I have always wanted to remain in the Bay Area where I have many friends and where my wife and I prefer the climate and standard of living."

HIGH SCHOOL GRADING PACT IS $188,825

A total bid of $188,825 submitted by Edward Keeble Construction, 850 Tully road, San Jose, for the rough grading of the Oceana High School site in Sharp Park was approved by Jefferson High District trustees Monday night. It was the lowest of ten bids.

State allocations board will examine the bid January 12 for final approval. Keeble Construction Company will have 90 calendar days to complete the work. The original estimate of the job was $250,000.

Architect Mario Ciampi said his office has been working on "nothing but the Oceana project" and final plans for the buildings will be available next month.

'LOADED' BAGS BRING PROMPT POLICE INQUIRY

Salvador R. Castenada, 21, of 19 Palmdale avenue, notified Daly City police after he found two "loaded paper bags on the sidewalk in front of 115 South Mayfair avenue Sunday at 12:10 a.m.

Police sent teletype bulletins when the bags were found to contain a .22 caliber pistol, a box of cartridges, three lod socks, a pair of women's high heel shoes, and oranges.

The mystery was cleared up at 9:20 p.m. when Claude Navarrette, 111 South Mayfair avenue, said he left the articles on the sidewalk in front of his home while unloading his auto. Officer Jeff Wetmore conducted the investigation for police while dispatcher Charles Maschinot received Navarrette's call.

Elderly Woman Claims Injury

An 80-year-old Daly City woman was treated at Junipero Serra Hospital for a head injury after she reportedly was struck by an auto at Mission street and Evergreen avenue last Wednesday at 12:35 p.m.

Mary Deen Jacobsen, 1077 Brunswick street, was found sitting in the auto of Barbara Louise Krahl, 30, 406 Granada drive, South San Francisco, by Officer Richard deLosa.

Mrs. Krahl, a part-time saleswoman, said she was going approximately five miles per hour when she applied the brakes and skidded on wet car tracks. She was cited for failure to yield the pedestrian right-of-way.

about the whole situation." Mrs. Garrison was halted by Dennis, who stated:

"I am in favor of keeping the public works department, just like Councilman Verducci. A replacement for Calhoun will be fully discussed by the new city manager and the council."

Mrs. Garrison returned to her seat after this final fusillade: "There should be no watering down or violation of city ordinances by the council. Here you appoint a new city manager and he doesn't even have a director of public works. Do we need less qualified people? With all the problems you councilmen have it is apparent you need more professional personnel."

Calhoun told the newspaper he hadn't accepted a new post yet "but I am considering about four or five openings in California."

Tickets to the January 15 show are only $1 for adults and 50 cents for youngsters. Every nickel will go to Carmel. She has been in and out of hospitals the past two years. MAYOR URGES 'DIMES' PUSH IN JANUARY

Mayor Edward J. Dennis today officially proclaimed January of 1960 as the "NEW March of Dimes" month in Daly City, urging all residents to "give their services and support to help prevent crippling diseases."

The "Dimes" drive in Daly City will be coordinated with the campaign of the San Mateo Chapter of The National Foundation, headed by T. J. Hallinan.

All money donated to the March of Dimes aids victims of polio, arthritis and birth defects.

AROUND TOWN

By ROY HURLBERT

Year 1960 will bring Daly City's 49th birthday, a big election scramble (local and nationwide), the usual fight against taxes, and political promises for progress.

New City Manager Edward Frank, a former coach-businessman administrator, has his work cut out for him. Outgoing 1959 wasn't exactly the kind of a year Daly City could boast about. There were peculiar problems, quite a few loose ends and hit-and-miss progress.

City Hall most of the year was like a ship without a captain. Nineteen Sixty can't help but be a better year.

* * * *

The letter from a St. Francis Heights housewife urging that "Daly City" be changed to a more fancy title has stirred much comment from many long-time residents.

Even should Daly City's name be altered tomorrow the community would still be known as Daly City.

Old names, like old soldiers, die slowly.

Sharp Park, for example, is now a part of Pacifica, but people down the Coastside still tell others they're from Sharp Park, Linda Mar, Pedro Valley, et cetera. If they start with Pacifica, the first question is "where's Pacifica." So it's back to Sharp Park, et cetera.

Likewise, Daly City by any other name would still be Daly City.

* * * *

In case you were "unaware" like us, Westmoor High School was named by taking the "West" from Westlake and the "moor" from Broadmoor. Together, they make for a nice-sounding contraction, as the professors of English call it.

Pacifica's two new high schools (construction starts next year) will be known as Oceana (ocean, of course—it's but a stone's throw away) and Terra Nova (new land).

Dwindling is the fad of naming schools after famous Americans. There are too many George Washingtons, Abe Lincolns and Thomas Jeffersons.

Unique names provide more identity. But it's still a good idea to remember good people by naming public buildings in their honor. Local leaders who have played major roles in their communities should be given more consideration.

And thus we're back to John Daly—the founder of Daly City. "Daly" isn't too fancy a name, but John Daly was significant here.

* * * *

Emory Schoolcraft, chairman of Westlake Improvement Association's board of directors, has no political ambitions, he wants everyone to know. A recent column praised Emory for his leadership. He says he has been kidded to the breaking point about being a man of political inclinations.

One Westlake director who definitely wants a seat at City Hall is McRobert Stewart, brother-in-law of Al Sereni, Daly City Scavenger Co. president.

"Mac" feels the time is opportune, as do former councilmen Sam Vickers and Del Wilson, and a few others who are quietly working for the Big Push the next four months.

* * * *

Daly City has turned down the proposed 100-acre Panorama subdivision (Crocker Hills east of town) annexation because Standard Builders have no plans for industrial development.

The council wants much of the vast Crocker land for annexation, but only if some industry is included.

Builders naturally want their new tracts to be annexed so that essential services will be footed by the taxpayers at large. Adding new property without industry only means more taxes for present residents. Industry helps to spread the tax base and is a "must" as far as the council is concerned.

City Clerk Evelyn Mosman and City Treasurer Paul Selmi are up for re-election in April.

Both are regarded as shoo-ins to repeat. Reason is no one else probably will run.

* * * *

This one didn't make the police blotter—but almost.

Early this month a band of four "playful" local high schoolers walked into Westlake Bank of America and staged a mock holdup, demanding money via a note to a veteran clerk.

Manager Eddie King said the boys no doubt were kidding, but he took no chances. He rounded them up before the cash was surrendered, hauled them into the back office and gave the wiseacres a lecture on the facts of life.

Some guys who play around in banks "just for laughs" often end up with FBI escorts to prison. No fooling!

WESTLAKE CONTEST

Rizzardo Family Display Voted Best In Christmas Decorations

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Rizzardo of 102 Fieldcrest drive have won the top award in Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association's annual Christmas decorations contest.

Judges Charles Schwab, Charles Becker, Edward Dennis, Roy Hurlbert and Tom Bocci Jr. finalized their decisions early last week.

The Rizzardo window and front yard display earned that family first prize as the "overall" contest winner.

In the outdoor display competition, the winners finished as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gehrman, 12 Wilshire court; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Furtado, 40 Pinehaven drive; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alvord, 444 Higate drive; Mr. and Mrs. John Pappas, 84 Elmwood drive; Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Bauer, 30 Eaton avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brandi, 438 Higate drive; Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob, 389 Glenwood avenue; and James Madden Jr., 48 Palmdale avenue.

The best indoor or window display was voted to Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Fuhrman of 697 South Mayfair. Other award winners in this category are: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alvord, 444 Higate; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rice, 146 North Mayfair; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Padilla, 955 Southgate; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Casey, 5 Creston avenue; Orland Webster, 7 Fernwood avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Olson, 43 Avalon drive.

Award for the best-consecutive-homes decorations went to six residents of Wilshire court, house numbers 2 to 12. These people are W. H. Warrens, Arthur Sammons, Hal Dahlgren, Mrs. Raena Hart, Fred Bertetta and Ernest Gehrman.

All the abovementioned winners will be awarded at a dinner next month at Westlake Joe's. Builder Henry Doelger, who again donated prizes to the contest, will be present for the ceremony.

THE 'GOLDEN SAHARA'

$75,000 'Car Beyond Tomorrow' Headlines San Mateo Auto Show

A electronically controlled "car beyond tomorrow" worth $75,000 will visit San Mateo County for a three-day run at the San Mateo Auto Show January 8-10.

The car, entitled "The Golden Sahara," responds to voice commands and features a host of other electronic and mechanical innovations. Sharing the spotlight at San Mateo will be the Model T rod used by Edd (Kookie) Byrnes on TV's "77 Sunset Strip" and a weird Model T complete with quad headlights from Hollywood.

Nearly 100 show cars, ranging from genuine antiques to cars which defy description, will be on display at the showformally known as the San Mateo Custom, Rod and Sports Car Show.

The event wil be held in the Fiesta Building of the San Mateo County Fairgrounds January 8-10.

Northern California spectators will be treated to their last look at the "Golden Sahara" and Kookie's car, as owner JSmolk woner Jim Skonzakes will leave immediately for a tour of the East.

The Sahara recently shared star billing with Jerry Lewis in the soon-to-be-released movie "Cinder Fella." By talking to the car it can be started, stopped and made to turn right or left. A stick, similar to one used in an airplane, can be used to operate the car. Radar automatically stops the car when it nears an object.

The show concludes Sunday, January 10, with a trophy presentation by Mike Bradley, Radio Station KOBY announcer.

CITES 'SURPLUS'

Senator Dolwig Says He'll Work For State Tax Cuts Next Year

Senator Richard J. Dolwig (R - San Mateo), chairman of the Republican State Legislative Campaign Committee, today declared his intention to press for reductions in state taxes during the 1960 session of the legislature.

The following is a copy of Senator Dolwig's statement:

"Early in the 1959 session of the State Legislature, Republicans fought Governor Brown's tax increase program on the grounds that the higher rates would result in a sizeable and needless surplus. Recent estimates support the soundness of our position and indicate that by June 1960 there will be a surplus of over $70 million. Furthermore, Alan Post, legislative analyst, has estimated there will be a $134 million surplus by 1961.

"However, as late as last week, Governor Brown stated that he would seek still more tax increases next year. Then, 24 hours later in what seems to have been designed as a 'grand gesture,' he announced that he would seek no new taxes next year because there would be a $70 million surplus. This reversal in itself indicates his complete lack of knowledge about the state's fiscal condition.

"All of this is certainly a shoddy Christmas present for the Governor to foist on the people of California. I regard it as a piece of deception calculated to make the taxpayer forget the burdens he is now carrying as a result of Mr. Brown's ill - advised tax program of 1959.

"Last year Governor Brown forced through the legislature a tax increase program which is costing the people of California some $292 million annually. As a result, Californians now pay an average State-and-Local tax per person of $238.50 —the highest in the nation. Mr. Brown's tax program included:

$73 million increases in individual income taxes; $8 million increases in inheritance taxes; $76 million in taxes on cigarettes, beer and racing; $35 million in bank and corporate taxes; $74 million in unemployment insurance taxes, and $25 million in workmen's compensation taxes.

"At the time that Mr. Brown was pushing his tax increase program through the legislature, we Republicans fought it all the way. It was evident to us then, and has been substantiated by a continued expansion of the national and state economy, that he had underestimated revenues. We hold the position that the state budget could have been balanced without increased taxes through the use of available funds plus the anticipated increase in revenues from tax rates then on the books.

"Now, as we predicted, the Governor finds he will have a surplus of $70 million by June 1960 and that there is every indication this surplus will continue to increase in the future.

"Instead of returning to the people the surplus generated as a result of these increased tax burdens, the Governor has announced he has found new ways to let this first $70 million of the taxpayers' money seep through the Sacramento sieve.

"He says the surplus is not really a surplus, and that the money will be used for expanding colleges and universities, for beaches and parks and mental health programs. Not only does he attempt to belittle the surplus, he seeks new ways to spend even more of the taxpayers' hard-earned money.

"As far as the building programs for colleges and universities are concerned these projects are traditionally financed by long-term bond issues. This spreads the cost of these institutions over a number of years and allows future generations, which will benefit from them, to share in their costs.

"The beaches and parks program would not be lagging if Mr. Brown had not orphaned it by forcing a shift of tidelands revenues from Investment fund money to buttress his water plan. His sudden splurge of generosity for the beaches and parks is hardly a proper method of restoring a regular source for the important recreation needs of our people.

"As for his suggestion that some of the surplus be used for the mental health program, he seems to forget that during the last session of the legislature he vetoed a bill which would have allowed the state to increase its aid to those counties which had stepped up their local mental health programs.

"Because of Mr. Brown's tax program, the people of California are now paying an added $74 million a year in individual state income taxes. This is approximately the amount of the surplus now estimated by June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

"The people now realize that the Governor acted unwisely in raising their taxes last year and that they deserve a tax cut in 1960.

"As a member of the Republican economy - bloc in the State legislature, I shall press for tax reductions during the 1960 sessions. I am convinced that all Republican members of the legislature will do their best to give the people tax relief from Mr. Brown's tax increase program."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SCHOOLTEACHER SPEAKS—

'When Asked Where I Live... I Am Proud To Say Daly City'

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

In a recent issue of your newspaper a lady wrote and discussed the unsuitableness of the name "Daly City" for this community. Herewith is a reply:

Many years ago Shakespeare stated that "a rose, by any other name, would be as sweet." This should hold true for a community of people. A city, a town, a community is best known for its citizens rather than its location or its physical attributes.

Years ago, as a teenager from Brisbane, I attended Jefferson High School. As such, I met the warm hospitality of the homes of my fellow students living in Daly City. The merchants at the "Top of the Hill" made us welcome in their places of business even though we went through the antics normal to teenagers.

As an adult, I have taught elementary school for five years in Daly City (on both sides of Junipero Serra) and have found the people (both newcomers and old-timers) to be warm, friendly, civic-minded citizens interested in their children, their homes, and their community. As a youth leader with the Boy Scouts, I have found local civic groups only too willing to assist in this kind of community activity. Our sponsoring group, the local V.F.W. Post, was always most helpful and ready to assist us in our endeavors. When the Troop was trying to become established, the Daly City Fire Department donated an American Flag and a Troop Flag. Your newspaper was always ready and willing to give the Troop favorable publicity not only to assist the Troop but to champion the cause of youth in this "day of the juvenile delinquent."

When it became necessary to increase the school tax rate, the citizens of Daly City gathered together to form the S.O.S. committee to publicize the need for this proposed tax rate increase. These people gave their time, money, and effort to do good for the children of Daly City. The same can not be said of some other Bay Area communities which have permitted school bond isuses and school tax rate increases to fall by the wayside. (Many of these Bay Area communities have very fancy, prestige-sounding names.)

National campaigns are conducted to encourage people to keep their homes in good repair. In Daly City, on the street where I live, the neighbors are always busy painting, remodeling and landscaping because they take pride in themselves and their homes as well as their community.

The people make the community; and when asked where I live, I am proud and happy to say, "I live in Daly City!"

Yours truly,
William J. Jones Jr.

Daly City PAL Election Keeps Same Leaders

All Daly City Police Athletic League officers were re-elected except for one first vice president, last week.

The only new officer is first vice president Edward Beecher. Last year's holder of the post was Richard Brewer, who is second vice president this year.

John Coleman was re-elected to the year's term of president. Secretaries Thelma Stockman and Josephine Runne and treasurer Robert Crooker were others regaining positions.

The police officers making up the executive board voted last Tuesday, choosing officers for 1960.

The chicken-wire tree was built by Ray Lencioni with the help of his employer, Leo Tialdi, of the Colma wholesale nursery business. Lencioni, 135 East Vista avenue, built this tree because his daughter Sandra, 4 years, has asthma and is allergic to fir trees. Eddie Quinteros, Darryl Jensen Making Good As Rock 'n Rollers

Two Daly City youth, Eddie Quinteros and Darryl Jensen, recently signed contracts with the Time Shadd Record Company.

He gives credit to his grandfather for developing his talent and his uncle, Ray Lemon, for buying him his first guitar. Eddie leaves Friday for promotion of his record in Colorado. He will be joined by singing star Bobby Freeman and the local Daly City band, The Rocketeers.

In February Quinteros will appear on the Dick Clark show, according to his manager, Walt Summers.

An exciting treat is in store for students at Benjamin Franklin School in Daly City on January 15, when talented Dick Stewart, popular host on KPIX's "Dance Party" (weekdays and Sat. 4-5:30 pm) presents an hour-long rally at the school.

It was just about one year ago, on February 23 to be exact, when the personable and handsome young man was chosen permanent host on "Dance Party" after many were auditioned. In keeping with their avowed policy of bringing programs of high caliber to the communities, KPIX carefully considered both parents and youngsters in making their choice, deeply aware that such a program with its wide teenage following, has a great impact and influence on young people.

Certainly Dick has carried out extremely well, the trust placed in him. We interviewed him when he first arrived, and found him to have many ideals and great plans for the show. His program consistently has maintained just the proper balance of informality and fun, combined with dignity and wholesome entertainment.

A talented singer, his background also includes acting in various movies, in addition to appearances on network television shows prior to coming to KPIX. His first job in television was on the "Hoffman Hayride" on KGO-TV after winning a singing contest, and when the show moved to Hollywood, he was featured vocalist for two years. He also appeared on an afternoon show for children, and later on emceed an hour-long daily audience participating show called "Parlor Party" which was telecast for four years, first at NBC and then KHJ-TV. He has made recordings for Hi-Fi Record Company, and most recently written a screenplay in collaboration wtih George Green.

Dick claims Oakland as his hometown because he moved with his parents to the Bay Area city in 1934. He graduated from Oakland Technical High School and also attended the University of California. He married an Oakland girl and they have three youngsters.

ACOUSTICS BAD

Small Audience Enthusiastic About 'Phoenix Too Frequent'

By Leonore Brewer

The Improviso Touring Theater Company of San Francisco paid its first visit to Daly City on Saturday, December 12, presenting Christopher Fry's comedy "A Phoenix Too Frequent" at War Memorial building.

It was greeted by an undeservedly small audience which did its best to make up for its size by its enthusiasm. There were times when its enthusiasm got a little out of hand as it greeted with wild guffaws lines or situations which called for sly chuckles.

"A Phoenix Too Frequent" requires only three players: the grieving wodow played by Ruth Rideout, her maid, Sandra Archer, and a young soldier, played by William Graham, Reduced to its barest essentials, "Phoenix" fells of the triumph of love and the love of life over grief and the desire for death.

Since this little company has received favorable notices elsewhere, we are going to assume that it was the fault of the acoustics and not of their delivery which prevented our understanding more than about two or three words out of ten. With straight drama or comedy, this wouldn't have been too bad, but with Fry's poetry to contend with, it made for a pretty impossible evening.

As is customary with most small companies, production values were high, and one looks forward to seeing them again. One thing is certain, if Daly City is to become the scene of little theater work, something better than the Coral Room at the War Memorial building is going to have to be found.

EIGHTH DISTRICT LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING TUESDAY

Eighth District American Legion Auxiliary will hold its first meeting of 1960 in Room 314, Veterans War Memorial Building, Van Ness avenue and McAllister street, Tuesday, January 5, commencing at 8:30 p.m., Angelino Castro, 8th District President, presiding.

Subject of the evening will be the legislative and national security programs with the Mesdames Gladys Anderson and Marion Silva as chairmen. These are especially vital programs and all are invited to attend and learn how essential it is at this time for all Americans to be well informed. An interesting and instructive evening is anticipated. Hostess Unit for refreshments is San Francisco Naval Shipyard 737.

LAW IN ACTION

GUESTS

Suppose a guest came to a party at your home, slipped and fell downstairs, and got hurt.

What is your legal duty to him?

Most likely none at all, so long as your stairs were in good shape, or you warned him of any unusual hazards. But he can seldom hold you to blame for dangers you don't know about.

Unlike "business invitees," guests accept your home and look out for themselves like the rest of your family, everyday risks and all.

True, some insurance policies pay some medical costs regardless of blame if guests get hurt in your home: But this does not mean that guests have a legal right to such protection.

To have a right to collect damages, as a rule, the injured guest must show that his host was negligent, and that he himself did not help bring on the mishap through his own carelessness.

But not all callers are "guests": Suppose you want to sell your house; you let a prospect in to look it over, and he falls over your little boy's fire engine. This is a different situation. He is a "business invitee" and as such he might have a right to damages which your guest would lack.

Workmen postmen, and tradesmen are "invitees." You have a duty to make your property safe for them to use.

Watch out, too, for "naked licencees," like people who cut across your lawn or play in your backlot. Though you owe them little, you did let them enter: Warn them of any danger you know about.

You owe little to trespassers. Yet, you cannot set mantraps to harm them, and you have a legal duty to warn a trespasser whom you see walking into danger, say, an open well.

Temple Judea Dinner Dance Ushers In '60

According to Chairman Ralph Bardoff of Congregation Judea Men's Club, the dinner dance to be held on New Year's Eve will be one of the outstanding events of the year. A limited number of reservations are still available, and all interested are urged to phone as soon as possible Mrs. Ralph Bardoff, OV 1-4564, or Mrs. Melvin Pincus, JU 4-5192. The price of admission is $16 per couple and highlights of the evening will be a midnight smorgasbord, a fine orchestra, delicious hors d'oeuvres and favors for all.

Congregation Judea announces that Sabbath Eve Services will be held as usual on Friday evening, January 1, at 5:30 p.m. at the Temple House. The regular reception and social will follow the service. It is a custom at Congregation Judea for families to pray together, including parents and children and all are invited to attend.

Judea Sunday School classes will resume this Sunday morning at 10 a.m. and the Breakfast Club welcomes all parents and friends to its first meeting of the new year the same morning. Parents interested in enrolling their children in the Sunday School for the new year should phone the Temple Office, PL 5-6362, or bring their children to Westlake Elementary School, Lake Vista and Fieldcrest, this Sunday morning at 10.

GI Insurance Dividends Due

An estimated 450,683 California veterans who hold participating GI life insurance will receive $22,612,200 in regular annual policy dividends during 1960, J. Glenn Corbitt, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in San Francisco, announced today.

Corbitt said this represents California GI policyholders' proportionate share in a national 1960 dividend total of $253,500,000 declared recently for participating GI insurance.

He explained that the dividends are primarily a refund to policyholders of part of their premium payments, and are made possible because the death rate among GI policyholders continues to be lower than the tables upon which the premiums were established by law.

Policyholders are requested not to make dividend inquiries in advance, since this would delay processing time, Corbitt stressed.

Dividends will be paid as soon as possible after the anniversary date of each policy during 1960. For example, if a policy was issued any September 1, the anniversary date will be September 1, 1960, Corbitt pointed out.

He added that dividends will be paid to holders of both term and permanent plan participating NSLI and USGLI policies.

Catholic Men Tell Cioppino Dinner Date

Strictly for men is the theme for the evening. The dinner committee is planning for an overflow crowd. Finger bowls and bibs will be provided all guests. The dinner will be followed by games.

Dinner tickets are $2 and may be obtained by calling Richard Dwyer at PL 5-2032.

East-side Resident Satisfied With 'Daly City's' Reputation

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

I would like to say a few words in answer to Mrs. Ted Hansen, who wrote a letter to the editor in a recent issue.

I have lived in and paid taxes in Daly City the past 24 years and I have never felt nauseated in telling anyone where I was from. There evidently must be thousands of other people who feel the same as I do, or they would not be swarming into our city so fast.

We have a very low crime rate—thanks to our police department; a lower tax rate than San Francisco; no slum sections, very efficient fire protection, five-cent parking meters and various other advantages that other towns don't have.

Why did those complainers choose to live here if it is such a pain to them?

Let's give three cheers and be contented.

Sincerely,
Blaine Glendening

He is survived by his wife, Lois Schultz; his mother, Mrs. Mary Schultz; a daughter, Mrs. La Vern Studeman, of Covina, California, and a granddaughter, Valerie Studeman.

WESTLAKE LANES

Jackpot Doubles Tourney Open To Bowlers Of Varied Skills

A Jackpot doubles tournament is now in progress on Swanson's Westlake lanes as the leagues take their annual vacation during the holiday season.

This style of tourney is attractive to the novice as well as the high average bowler. It is based on two-thirds difference between the 1959 Blue Book average or highest known with a minimum average of 140, at time of entry and 200.

The magic score to break the bank is 1385. And the cost is $3 per person for the three-game series.

Also bonus awards will be given for any duo bowling 1285 or higher, such as 1285 or over $5,1310 - $10,1350-$15,1375-$20, and 1385 "breaks the bank."

In the event 1385 is not bowled by the closing date of January 31, 1960, the top 17 tandems will share in the prize fund. If the bank is broke before that the same number of teams will share in the guaranteed prize fund of $167, or higher, according to entries.

Only bowlers who have completed by January 17 will be eligible to bowl until the closing date. This protects the regular who has helped to build the pot and stop what is known as an outsider to walk off with the major portion of the prize fund.

No teams will be alowed to bowl more than twice on the same lanes in a 24-hour period. And any duo, providing their score is high enough, may finish in the money as many times as possible.

Squads wil be started as soon as sufficient bowlers are signed up and lanes are available. Reservations may be made by telephoning Westlake Bowl.

The tandem of Tom Cloutier and Boyd Hillyer lead with 1283. They are followed by Steve Gotelli and Ernie Viola, 1245, and Jack Thur and Fred Thompson, 1233.

There are almost 65 million telephones in North America.

DC YOUTHS PLAY

Marc, Ryan Lean San Jose Cagers Against SFS Gators Here Tuesday

Daly City basketball followers can get a "first hand" look at former Jeff High stars Dennis Marc and Gary Ryan who will play with visiting San Jose State in the San Francisco State gym Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

DENNIS MARC, ex-Jeff star, set scoring records while at San Mateo College. He is now playing for San Jose State. Only a sophomore, the 6-5, 18-year-old tips the scales at 190 pounds and is strong on the boards. The Spartans visit San Francisco State for a practice tilt next Tuesday night.

Though both have appeared on television (in games against California and USF) the two youths will be playing close to home in this one.

Marc gave a memorable performance against USF in the West Coast Athletic Conference Tournament opener while the Spartans bowed, 51-48. Marc's work as a rebounder was truly the outstanding highlight of the game for either team.

USF didn't forge ahead until Marc was replaced in the line-[illegible] The San Mateo College graduate, who set records as a scorer there, hasn't a high point average but the sophomore is coming along.

Ryan has been a starting guard for the young Spartan squad during most of the practice games. He hasn't made too many points, but with experience should start popping them through the net with old-time swishing style.

Other starters for the Spartans will probably be 6-3 forward Bob Chapman, 6-2 forward Vic Corl (formerly of City College of San Francisco) and 5-10 guard Joe McGrath.

Discounting the Far Western Conference tournament, San Francisco State won but one while losing five. However, the Gators give their best performances against San Jose State. Last year, after a drought of many seasons, the Gators dropped the San Jose outfit on the losers' home court.

Top average for the Golden Gators belongs to Jim Caranica who has pumped at a 13.8 pace. Other starters will probably be his brother, Nick, 5-8, at guard; 6-4 center Bill Mortensen; 6-1 forward Bill Purcell; and 6-2 forward Jim Cunningham.

Both teams are loaded with sophomores, and though in the building stages at present show some fine workmanship on the court. Ryan, Marc and Corl of SJ are sophs as are Nick Caranica, Purcell and Cunningham of SFS.

In addition, the sixth and seventh men of both teams are early in grade years. For the Spartans, Art Dalbey and Vance Barnes, both sophs, should see plenty of floor play.

Wisconsin Hopes To Amend 1953 Rose Bowl Loss

Wisconsin has been installed as solid favorites for the Rose Bowl clash against Washington before 100,000 approximated bleacher fans in a nationally televised game to begin at 1:45 p.m. on New Years Day.

The passing of Wisconsin's Dale Hackbart and Washington's Bob Schloredt may be the deciding factor. The teams have similar passing records. The Huskies have completed 56 of 115 attempts while the Badgers have been successful on 54 of the same amount of tries.

Wisconsin has lost one bowl game, that in 1953. It was the only post-war defeat handed the Big Ten representative.

Police, Firemen Aid Heart Victim On Theta Avenue

Mrs. Mary Dillon, wife of Clayton Dillon, 41, 68 Theta avenue, asked police for aid as her husband was having a heart attack Sunday at 1:53 p.m.

Officer Ed Beecher responded and found firemen of Company 2 giving resuscitator aid to Dillon. He was transported by M&D Ambulance to Junipero Serra Hospital where he was treated by a physician.

Westmoor Enters South City Easter Baseball Tourney

Westmoor's baseball team, young but experienced in varsity ball, has accepted an invitation to play in the South San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce Easter baseball tournament. The games will be played from April 11 through April 15. Three Peninsula League teams will participate.

Other high schools entered are Redwood (Larkspur), St. Ignatius (defending tourney champion), Balboa, Santa Rosa, San Mateo, Serra, and host South San Francisco.

W'MOOR FALLS BEFORE LIONS

Galileo's full court press paid off in a 41-24 victory over Westmoor on December 23 at Kezar Pavilion.

The Rams didn't have captain Bill Dougherty or sixth man Dick Reese available over the school holidays and with these two best ball handlers not present, Coach Tony Giammona's crew became unravelled.

Westmoor was in the ball game right up to the fourth quarter when the Lions barrelled into the lead. At the end of the first quarter the score was 15-14 and at the half only 21-17. "We couldn't put the ball in the bucket during the last three quarters and that was our downfall," Giammona said.

"We were really trounced the first time out against Galileo, 61-39, so considering everything we played a much improved game," the Westmoor mentor commented.

Clark Beerman's 8 points were the highest for the low scoring Rams.

The 130's had only one first stringer on the floor, yet managed to give the Lions a run for their money at 34-27. Harry Brown, the only starter, meshed 17 points for the Ramlings. Only six Ram lightweight players were available for the game as vacation took its toll of students able to participate.

St. Clair Chosen For Pro Bowl Tilt

Bob St. Clair, San Francisco 49er tackle, for the second consecutive year will be a member of the West pro squad for its clash with the East on January 17 in Los Angeles.

St. Clair, a Daly City councilman, was one of seven 49ers chosen by West Coach Red Hickey. At 6-8½ inches, Bob no doubt will be the tallest player on the West team, though his 275 pounds won't be the heaviest.

Highlights of his career include being chosen rookie pro lineman of the year in 1953, being one of nine pros to come from the undefeated USF 1951 eleven, and being a high draft choice (third) by the 49ers in 1951.

He played with Tulsa in the Gator Bowl during his senior year after he transferred from USF and missed his ambition of playing in the East-West Shrine game. However, his choice as a pro shows the respect and admiration his coach and opponents have for him.

JACK HORN, AS USUAL, PACES SCORING

INDIAN CAGERS PUSHED FROM TOURNEY BY CAP

Mike Orlich's hoopsters again were knocked from tourney play last Tuesday, being beaten by Capuchino, 49-43, in a close contest. They were dropped from the Palo Alto High Invitational Tourney in two games, just as they were at the Peninsula League fracas.

"We missed 17 lay-ups and no team can do that and win," Orlich said. If Jeff could have kept up the torrid 11 of 29 shooting from the floor that found them ahead at the first quarter, 19-6, and tied at the half, 24-24, they could have moved into the consolation game.

However, a paltry 4 for 29 field goal shooting in the second half led to their downfall. Jack Horn again topped the list of Indian scorers, this time with 17 markers. Pat Bell had 9, Gary Molossi, 11, and J. B. Berry, 5. Randy Rothman led Cap wiht 18 points, mostly under the bucket.

The Indians lost the opening game to Cubberley, 55-41, mostly on fouls — those that they missed and Cubberley made, and two first stringers fouling out.

Hiram Sibley and Molossi Jeff's two big scoring punches fouled out midway in the third quarter when the score was 40-31 and the Indians couldn't get on the track again.

Molossi had 8 and Sibley 10 points. Horn, a consistent high scorer, led the team with 12 digits. Cubberley made 18 of 32 free throws while Jeff, usually hot from the foul line, managed but 5 of 18.

Jeff's poor first half floor shooting, only 4 of 32 while Cubberley hit 12 of 27, found the Tribe behind 30-11 at the half. The Indians narrowed the gap in the third quarter, but with two starters out couldn't come close enough.

Orlich used all 10 men on the travelling squad during the contest. "With Sibley and Molossi playing another quarter and a half we might have been able to overtake them," he commented.

HOST PALO ALTO WINS TOURNEY

Hosting Palo Alto High won its own invitational tourney by mashing Menlo, 57-35, last Wednesday night.

Capuchino won the consolation bracket contest, taking a 49-40 decision from Washington High of San Francisco. Randy Rothman belted home 21 points for the Mustangs while Roger Dabney had 12. Neil Calhoun again was named to an all-tourney team, also capturing honors in the Peninsula League series.

Jeff High of Daly City, eliminated in two games, didn't place any cagers on the all-tourney team.

SPORTS SPIN

By LOU LUCIA

Everybody picks the bowl games, so we're going to put our spoon into the snap, crackle and popping shoulder pad sport and stir the plate of champions around.

In the East-West game it looks like the passing of Don Meredith and finger snatching of Chris Burford and other talented ends plus backs Dick Bass, Don Ellerseck, etc. vs. the strong gruelling ground game of the East. The East will no doubt be the favorite. Final score: WEST 28, EAST 21.

The W's, Washington and Wisconsin, meet in the vase game which usually turns out pretty smelly for the West. Bob Schloredt, one-eyed quarterback who throws better than most two-eyed quarterbacks, and Dale Hackbart, Badger QB, have similar records. Who can argue with Big 10 success, though? WISCONSIN 14, WASHINGTON 6.

P.S. (or should it be F.G.?): Wisconsin has attempted 11 field goals, more than any other high-ranking eleven and if the score is close watch for the "T" to be thrown out.

National magazines pick Syracuse to nudge Texas in the Cotton Boll Weevil game. In 6 of 10 games Texas has scored more than 20 points. In 8 of 10 games Syracuse has scored more than 30 points. Syracuse has a coach named Ben Schwartzwalder and headlines proclaiming "Schwartzwalder's Team Wins" are too long, but we have to stick with Syracuse. SYRACUSE 42, TEXAS 21.

The Sugar Bowl contest should be "sour" when it comes to scoring points. Mississippi has allowed but 7 points in three games out of the 10 they've played. Only two teams scored touchdowns against LSU; though horrors, they allowed three field goals. It may be the running of LSU's Billy (Shot From A) Cannon against Ole Miss' Charlie Flowers. (He must be in the wrong Bowl game.) Flowers was married recently. Cannon, we believe, already has two kids. We like kids. LSU 7, MISSISSIPPI 0.

Missouri throws Oranges against Georgia in a bowl game. Missouri has been defeated four times while Georgia was mashed but once. Georgia has a long and short passer in Charley Britt and Francis Tarkenton, and Missouri's pass defense is as porous as orange juice in a mixer. Missouri will cry in their orange rinds. GEORGIA 33, MISSOURI 13.

The Gator Bowl, without San Francisco State, matches Georgia Tech and Arkansas. The Razorbacks have been steadier and may make an "I" of a wreck of Georgia Tech. GT, however, has had a lot of injuries during the year and lost four tilts. Arkansas has lost three. Tech has shown an inability to score points, 21 being their highest number, and that was but once. ARKANSAS 21, GEORGIA TECH 7.

Tigers, Hawks Tie For First

The Tigers, of Daly City's fifth grade league, tied for the touch-football championship with the BYA Hawks by beating OLPH, 6-0, to close out play in that loop.

The Daly City Merchants won the 7th grade league, drawing a bye the final week, while the Snell-BYA Stars nailed down second place by shutting out the BYA-Snell Indians, 13-0. The eighth grade championship went to OLPH as the BYA Colts forfeited the final game. PAL captured second place.

Final games in the sixth grade league were played Saturday. Up to that point, the BYA Rams remained ahead of PAL by one point by taking a 6-0 victory over the BYA 49ers. PAL eked out a 6-0 win over the PAL Devilpups to stay in contention. Peter Frates scored the only touchdown on a pass from Dan Nolan.
